$685.33 BALANCE IN ALEXANDRIA TREASURY

City Expended $227,606.40 for Operating Expenses, According to Financial Report.

SCHOOL HOUSE BIDS REJECTED

Alexandria, Va., Oct. 10.—The city during the fiscal year ended May 31, 1914, spent $227,606.40 for operating expenses, while its receipts were $228,293.73, leaving a balance in the city treasury of $685.33, according to the 1914 annual report of the finance of the city, issued by City Auditor E. P. Price.

Licenses collected amounted to $24,515.92, while the taxes collected, including deposits for rents and improvements, amounted to $13,207.80. Fines collected totaled $3,625, and $11,000 was transferred from the gas fund to the general fund.

Given in the expenditures are the salaries of the policemen, amounting to $14,100.00, while interest on coupon bonds of the issue of 1905 amounted to $1,230 and of the issue of 1908 $3,070.

Minor expenses at the city hall were $20,000, while operating expenses of the chain gang were $1,000. The city's legal expenses were $200.

Expenses of the three fire companies were as follows: Reliance, $1,700.20; Columbia, $1,200.40; Relief Hook and Ladder, $1,100.00. Repairing fire plugs cost $200.00.

The poor and workhouse cost $2,068.50, while the outdoor poor cost $622.32, and $1,500 was given to the Associated Charities.

The city paid the Alexandria County Lighting Company $7,028.62 for street lighting. Public school cost $13,000. To clean the streets cost $11,100, while repairs to the streets amounted to $1,100.72.

Twelve bids have been received and opened by the joint committee on public property and schools for the erection of the proposed new high school building. The committee, however, has deferred awarding the contract, the bids being regarded as higher than expected. The lowest bid was $45,000.

The bids follow: Richardson & Burgess, $45,000; Joseph Rodgers, $48,467; J. D. Knight, $63,000; Page Construction Company, $67,500; Melton Construction Company, $68,000; W. P. Hanback, $68,400; Arthur L. Smith, $68,400; Michael A. Waller, $68,737; Wise Granite and Construction Company, $69,000; P. P. Whitty, $68,500; Andrew Murray, $68,500.

For plumbing—R. P. Whitty, $2,000; J. C. Gates, $1,200.

For heating and ventilating—R. P. Whitty, $4,000; American Heating and Ventilating Company, $3,200; S. A. Gregory, $3,500.

Rev. E. K. Hardin, pastor of Mount Vernon Place M. E. Church, Washington, will deliver the address at the Sunday school parade and song festival which will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The exercises following the parade will take place at a stand which will be erected at Cameron and Washington streets. J. T. Preston will conduct the music.

The route selected for the parade is as follows: Formation at Fairfax and Prince streets, marching north on Fairfax to Cameron, then east on Cameron to Washington, and north on Washington to Wythe, countermarching on Washington to Cameron, where services will be held.

James W. Bales, past exalted ruler of Alexandria Lodge of Elks, will be presented with a light-colored ruler's jewel, say that lodge Monday night.

Arrangements have been completed for rally day services which will be held by the Sunday school of the Second Presbyterian Church tomorrow.

Rev. Lee Starke, evangelist, will preach at both services tomorrow at the Methodist Protestant Church. His subject at the morning services will be "The Dry Bones of Alexandria," and at the evening services his subject will be "The Way of Faith."

The art exhibit in decorative china painting held in St. Mary's Academy, which was brought to a close tonight, proved a most creditable affair.

Miss Ella Hill's collection included a punch bowl, exquisitely decorated in white and purple grapes; a vase (believe), design in yellow roses.

Miss Brill had on display three magnificent vases (believe), one in red poppies, the others in red and yellow roses respectively.

Miss Nannie Nevitt's tea set in pink attracted much attention as did also a water pitcher in red and white.

Miss Lillian Hill exhibited a claret pitcher in red and white; a large vase with pink and yellow chrysanthemums, and also a punch bowl in grape design.

A toilet set of seven pieces, designed by Miss A. Ewald in "Baby Blue Eyes," proved a prime favorite in the collection.

ASSASSINS ON TRIAL TOMORROW

Twenty-five Prisoners Accused in Austrian Murders.

Venice, Oct. 9 (via Paris, Oct. 10).—The trial of the persons accused of the assassination of the heir apparent to the Austrian throne, Archduke Francis Ferdinand, and his consort, the Duchess of Hohenberg, will begin in Sarajevo on Monday before Superior Court Judge von Curnaldi. It is expected to last about three weeks. There are twenty-five prisoners, twenty-one of whom are Serbians and four Croats. Ten of the prisoners are under twenty years of age. The indictment covers thirty-seven printed pages and charges high treason. It further alleges that evidence obtained proves that the assassination of the archduke was only the means toward other treasonable ends.

COPS THANK SYLVESTER FOR REDUCING HOURS

Members of Third Precinct and Policemen's Association Write Major, Showing Appreciation.

ALL PLEDGE BETTER SERVICE

Members of the police department greatly pleased over the order of Maj. Richard Sylvester reducing the hours of reserve duty. Up until the first of the month the men did eight hours extra duty every other day. Now they do it about once a week.

Maj. Sylvester yesterday received a letter of appreciation signed by forty-eight men of the Third precinct, and one from George W. Sellers, secretary of the Policemen's Association, stating that at a meeting of the organization on October 8 resolutions of appreciation were adopted. The letter from the Third precinct, through Capt. Daniel Sullivan, reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned members of the metropolitan police department, attached to the Third precinct, desire to express our gratitude for the efforts of our major and superintendent, to minimize the reserve duty to be performed by us, thus continuing to have our welfare at heart.

"We desire to further assure the major and superintendent that we will hold ourselves in readiness and respond promptly upon a call at our respective homes at any time, and that we will co-operate with the major and superintendent in his desire to increase the efficiency of the reserve force, and thereby make permanent the present system, which is experimental."

WILSON WILL WELCOME BAR.

Accepts Invitation of ex-President Taft to Make Address.

Former President Taft, as president of the American Bar Association, has invited President Wilson to speak before a combined meeting of that association and the Commissioners of Uniform State Laws. President Wilson has accepted, and will deliver an address of welcome to the meeting presided over by former President Taft. The two men, who have lived in the White House during the last six years, will occupy the same platform.

October 19 is the day set for the opening session. The bar association and the uniform state law commissioners, who are appointed by the governors of the States, are closely affiliated organizations. Some of the important questions which will come before the conference will be those of workingmen's compensation, incorporation, partnership, stock exchange, and the advisability of incorporating the principles of eugenics in the marriage laws.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Washington, Saturday, October 10-4 p. m.
For the District of Columbia, Maryland, and Virginia—Showers and cooler Sunday afternoon or night. Monday fair; cooler; moderate south wind, shifting to west and northwest.

The depression that was over Southeastern Kansas Friday night has moved to Northeastern Michigan with more definite development, and with continued rain in the Central valley and the Lake region. The rains also extended into Alabama and Western Georgia, but did not reach the Atlantic State. In Northern Illinois there were some local rains in North Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, and the North Pacific States, but elsewhere in the West the weather was fair.

High temperatures continue in the East and South, but in the Lake region, the Central valley, and the Plains States they have fallen to about normal conditions. In the extreme West they are still low for the season. Generally in the West there will be showers Sunday in the St. Lawrence Valley and Sunday or Sunday night in the Atlantic States, followed by cooler weather on Monday. Elsewhere fair weather will prevail Sunday and Monday, except in the Northwest and Oregon Central West, where local rains are probable Sunday or Sunday night.

It will be cooler Sunday in the Lake region, the St. Lawrence Valley, Tennessee, and the northern portions of the Gulf States.

The winds along the North and Middle Atlantic coasts will be moderate to fresh south and southwest; on the South Atlantic coast gentle to moderate south; on the Florida coast, on the Gulf coast gentle to moderate south; on the Upper Lakes moderate to fresh west and northwest Sunday, with fair, cooler weather; on the Lower Lakes fresh west Sunday, partly cloudy and cooler weather; showers on Ontario and Eastern Quebec.
